I am very happy with Keith and how easy he made the purchase of my truck. We were able to complete almost all paperwork electronically, which had all the haggle completed before I picked up the truck. I noticed an an oil leak after a couple days and reached out to Keith. He scheduled me with the mechanic right a way. Overall Very Happy with my purchasing experience with Cool Rides. Not a fan. Great job getting back with me. Sorry I could make it from Denver, but keep in touch , looking forward to looking again at the cars from your lot. Thank you. The staff was nice and friendly. You will never get a used car that is sound I new this buying this one over priced bucket of bolts that will cost me thousands of dollars more to be driveable. I called ahead of time to notify I was coming, car was super clean. Test drove the vehicle and it was Superb! Really awesome price, great salesmen and great price. Dealer notified in advance for the purchase upon arrival car would not start due to dead battery. Dealer replaced the battery. I purschased the bmw,vehicle was as described and the people were very nice and friendly. They were amazing extremely helpful and very friendly. Class acts. Will def be back to get another car. This place is great. Staff is very helpful and informative. Transactions were easy and very successful. Fair, easy and quick process. Moe was very helpful throughout the process. I would definitely recommend this place for used car purchases. Sales rep was nice and friendly. He was not pushy and was respectful. The car was not a Prius 4 as advertised and the dealer would not come down in price. Since it didn't have the options I expected I did not purchase it. The car was clean and ready for a test drive. The dealer was up front and helpful though we did not choose his car. Even though they could not get me financed, they pointed me in the right direction of somebody that could. We have a problem with one of the features, that if it cost too much to fix, then we will do without it. Nothing compares to a Subaru in my opinion. All the amazing features of the expensive luxury cars with the sick power of the 3. A beautiful car, rides nice, very good fit and finish. Has all the bells and whistles except for remote start. I can live without that. I highly recommend Subaru to anyone. Why Use CarGurus? Hello everyone. I am interested in upgrading my exhaust, but I absolutely cannot find an aftermarket system for sale? So I am considering just having one built custom. I have been looking at the limited selection of headers available for the car and am only finding Borla. I also found a header and uppipe combo that is for the Impreza 2. Would this fit my car and has anyone ever heard of this company and are there products any good? Form looking under the car it looks like and correct me if I'm wrong I will need a header, uppipe, and cat back? Any advice will be much appreciated because i have no idea where to start. A header for any 2. You will need header, high flow cat, and then cat back. I have a Greddy system on my RS and like it. I would think someone would make one for a Legacy. And you should be MUCH more concerned with head gaskets than with the exhaust. Trust me on this one. If they haven't been done then you are looking at doing them or having them done real soon. Excelent - so what are you looking for in an exhaust then? There isn't any real performance to be gained being it's a non-turbo I have to disagree with you on this GD. I saw a very noticeable difference with my headers and cat back on my RS. It's much quicker than a stock RS. Personally I put straight pipes on My 96 Legacy and I love it Inexpensive and honestly I swear I can feel a little more pick up However You could always go out and buy an STI Interesting - I wouldn't have though the stock system to be so restrictive on the newer cars. I suppose it ties in with the emissions and noise requirements. I am looking for a different sound. I want that deep Boxer growl Also I have these annoying heat shields on my stock exhaust and every time I am low in gear or letting the clutch out in first all they do is rattle. You actually would have a hard time getting rid of the lumpy boxer sound. It has to do with the manifolds not having equal length headers and thus the exhaust pulses are leaving the tail-pipe in a non-uniform pattern. Thus the wacky sound they make. It's not a problem on the non-turbo engines but actually does reduce performance by a slight percentage on the turbo's as the exhaust turbine doesn't receive evenly spaced pressure waves and thus doesn't spin up as fast. Okay, my 94 Legacy had a later EJ22 from 98 subaru, so it had the single port exhaust heads. I had a Borla header, stock cats from a 97 legacy, 2" catback and a magnaflow flow through muffler. The horsepower peak was around rpm and the torque pear was around rpm. The down side to my exhaust was that it was loud. Since my legacy was a wagon, the noise did echo quite a bit, in the passenger compartment. One thing you should do is go on to nasioc But watch out, there is a lot of BS on nasioc too. What you need to do is buy a set of replica borla unequal length headers. I would have went this route but I elected to have an 04 STi catback but on just so mine would be quieter. Where do you buy the replica borla unequal length headers? That sounds really good. That is the sound that I'm going for What kind of exhaust system are you using? Did you have to modify the catback in any way for it to fit? When I had mine put on, I had to have it lengthened so it would mate up with all the exhaust hangers and have the factory look. Of course I went with it cause it was given to me and I hated the aftermarket fart can exhaust that was on it when I bought the car. I've got a '97 Legacy OBW. I put on the Borla headers and the Stromung single cat pipe. I've got the Stromung center pipe on order, and then I need to decide what to do about a muffler. I've had the headers and cat pipe for about 5 years and haven't had any prroblems. Nice sound and a little bit more top end without a loss at the bottom. Understand this isn't a Mercedes, although this car doesn't offer much in respect to the interior the reliability is outstanding for a four cylinder car. When I purchased my 2. It now has , miles on it and is running no different then when I bought it. From the coast of California to the coast of north Carolina, this car has only needed an oil change here and there! Weather you be a first time car buyer or someone who wants a reliable car to keep miles off there nice car, you can not go wrong with this car. I will say the acceleration is terrible, I know some people have complaints about the head gasket blowing but I have the feeling its because they tried to drive the car to hard. But as long as you keep the timing belt changed and drive sensibly this car will take great care of you. Other notes: I have a lb dog she fits fine in there, the seats lay down giving me plenty of storage room; in fact because I travel so much I usually get a memory foam mattress topper and it makes a perfect bed for me and her im 6'1. This car also eats oil so just be sure you check the oil every miles or so. Another thing I noticed when I was in the desert it was sitting statio nary for about 5 minutes and started to over heat I turned it off to let it cool and it was all good. Far as the steering goes its defiantly a longer car; ever since ive owned the car if I make a sharp turn at low speeds it shakes and vibrates a lot The seats padding somewhat wears out on the outside and you can feel the wire frame after a while of getting in and out of the car im not over weight at all im in great shape The tailgate light also miss reads if the rear door is open or not over time, again nothing major but it can by irritating. Far as clean up goes I have a long hair dog and the carpet doesn't trap hair, its actually really easy to clean up. Also if you change elevation quickly such as going through the rocky mnts the oxygen sensor will go off causing the check engine light to come on, just have it cleared after you get back to a more steady elevation. Remember to keep the tire pressure even! Something else im not fond of is the cup
